Type of Libraries

Overall Volume of Requests

Volume of International Requests

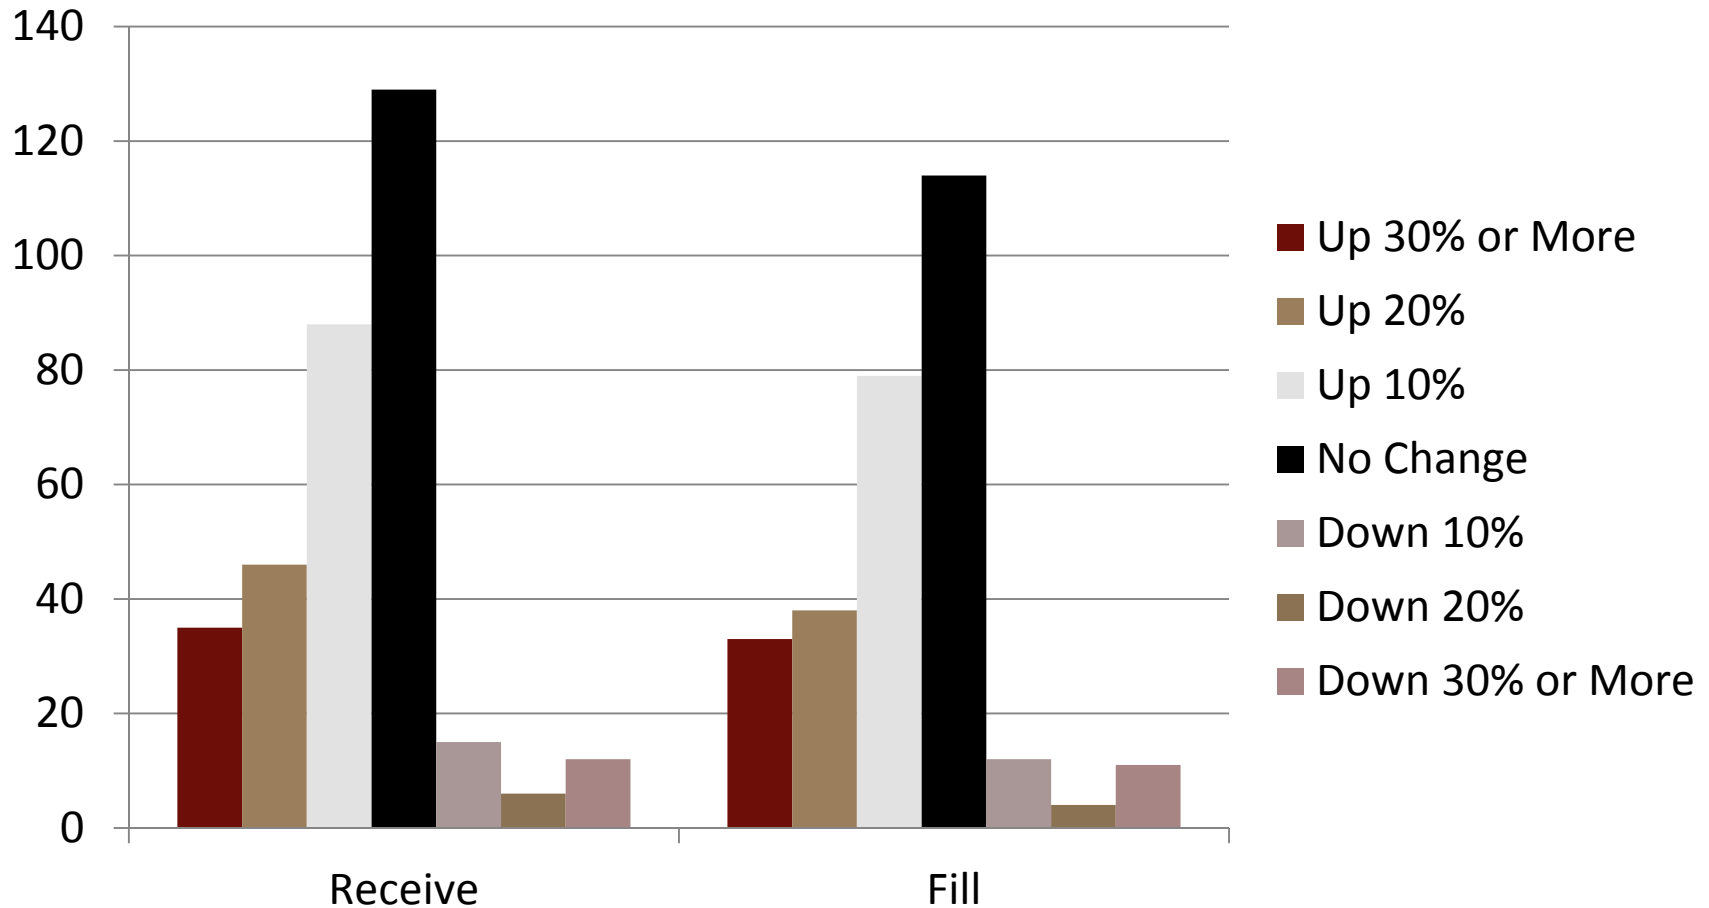

Types of Materials Requested Internationally

Types of Materials Lent Internationally

Change in International Lending

Reasons for Change

Increased Volume

- Visibility of holdings through online tools
- New membership in resource sharing networks
- Ease and speed of electronic delivery

Decreased Volume

- Copyright and licensing restrictions
- Prohibitive shipping costs
- Greater availability of online resources
- Payment options

BARRIERS & POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENTS

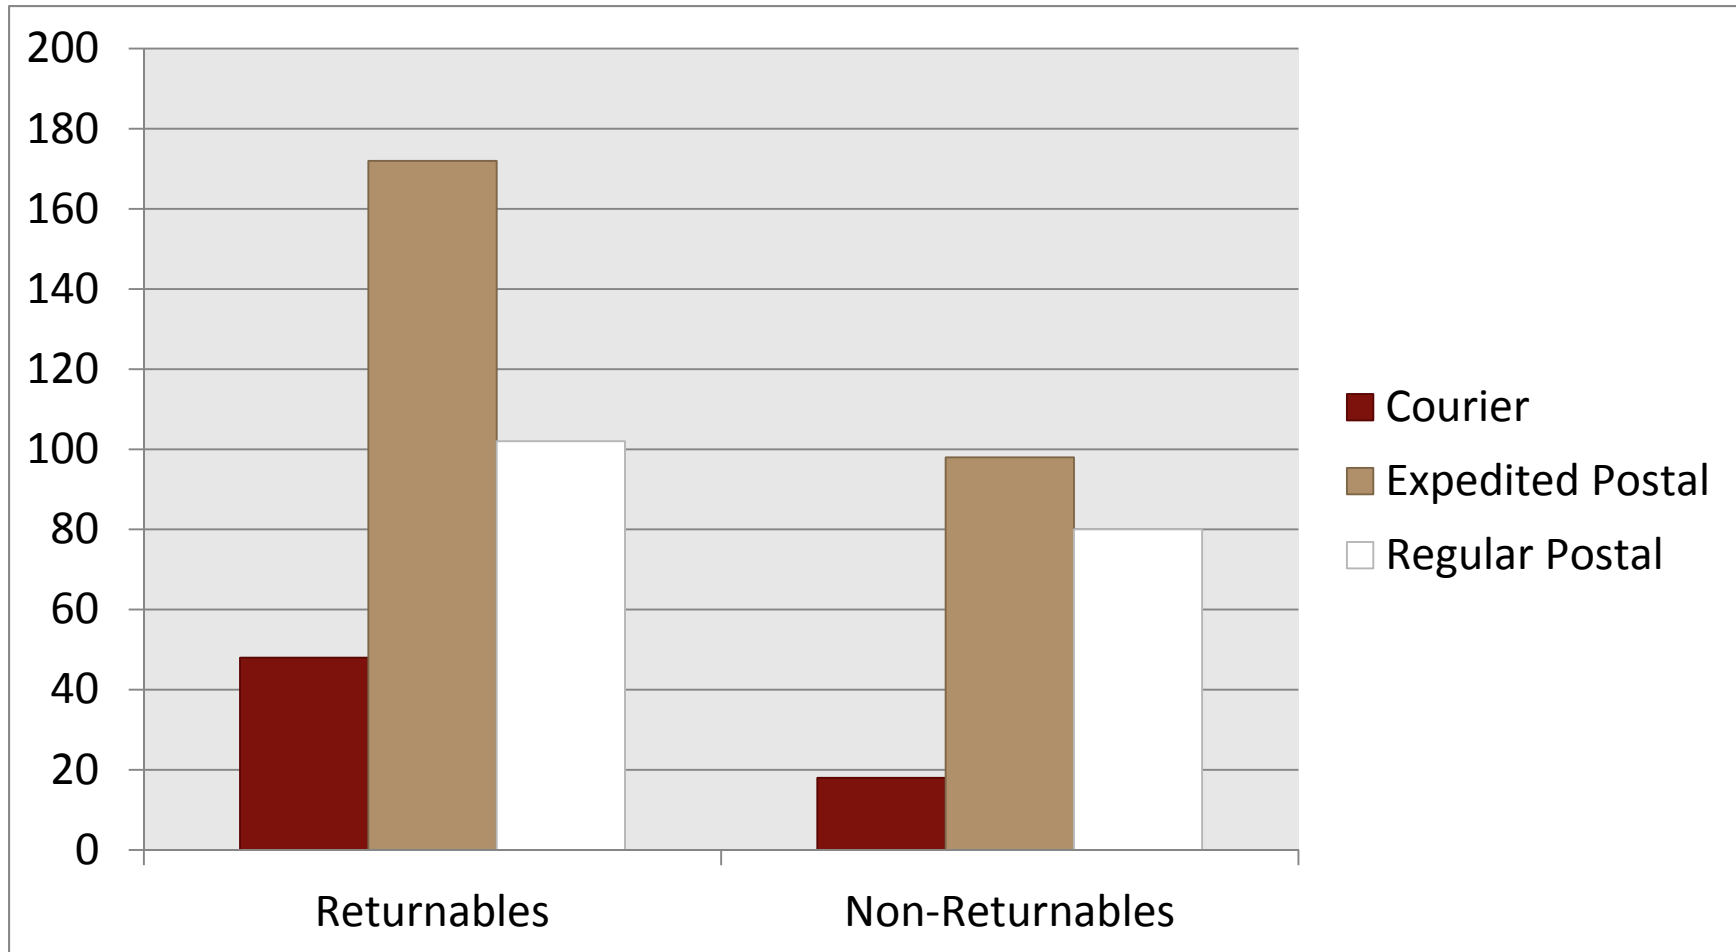

Copyright & Licensing Restrictions

- 20.3% don't deliver non-returnables electronically
- 42.3% can't supply non-returnables because of copyright

What can we do?

- Educate ourselves about international copyright laws
 - Treaty Proposal on Limitations and Exceptions for Libraries and Archives. Version 4.3. IFLA, 2012.
 - Crews, K. “Study on Copyright Limitations and Exceptions for Libraries and Archives.” WIPO, 2008.
 - Pilch, JT. “International Copyright: Why It Matters to Libraries.” Library Copyright Alliance Issue Brief, 2009.
- Maintain awareness of ALA & LCA actions and legal cases that could impact copyright & ILL
- Advocate for ILL-friendly copyright laws and licensing terms

Shipping

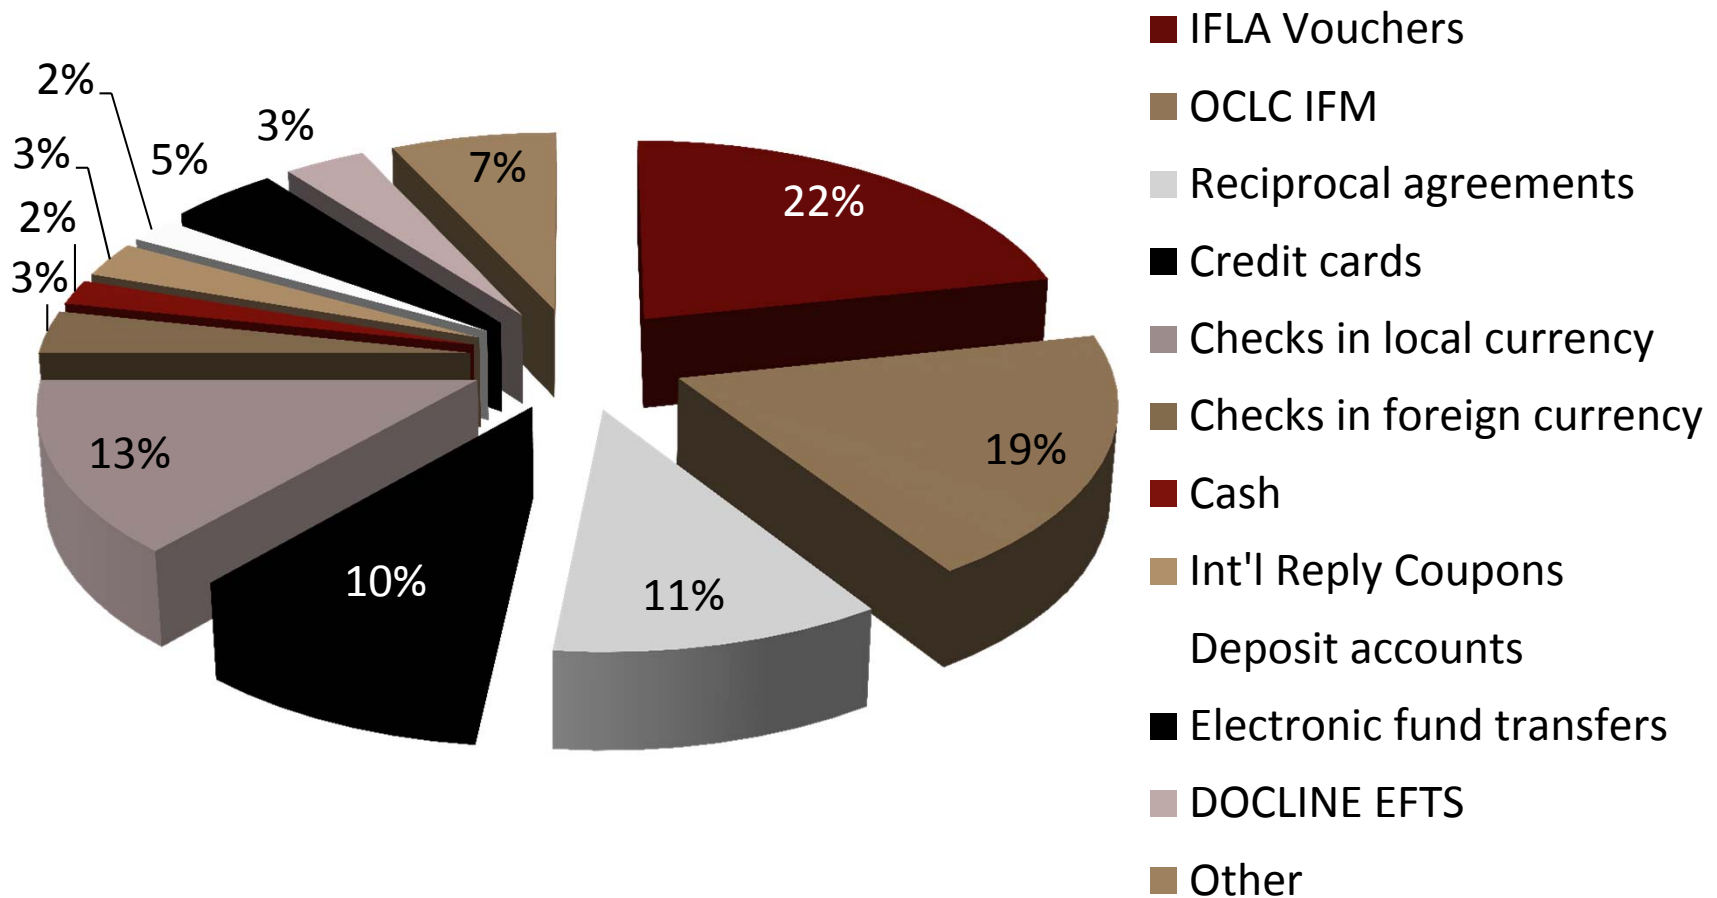

What can we do?

- Overcome our hydrophobia
- Consider upgrading to expedited postal service
- Be familiar with customs requirements
- Advocate for interlibrary loan of ebooks
- Digitize books that are out of copyright

Fees

Payment Options

What can we do?

- Consider higher charges for international requests
- Establish international reciprocal agreements
- Educate and advocate for the use of IFLA vouchers
- Advocate for an electronic conversion of IFLA vouchers
- See if your administrators will issue a credit card or if they have one you could use when needed

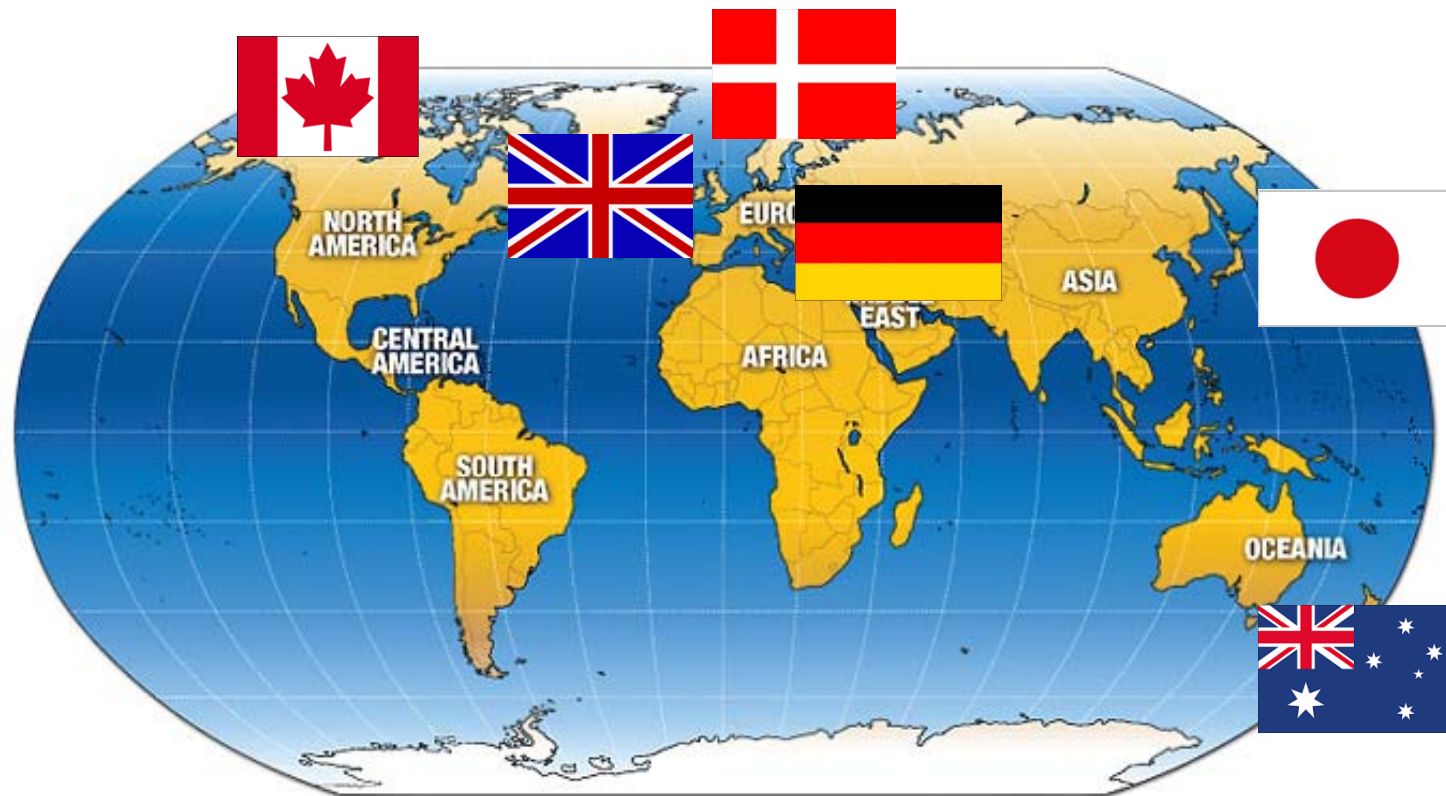

Communications

- Top methods for receiving requests:
 - E-mail (86.1%)
 - OCLC (56.4%)
 - Fax (32.9%)
 - Mail (31.4%)
- Only 35.7% have lending policies posted on library web site
- 58.8% do not routinely refer requests to other lenders when unable to supply

What can we do?

- POST YOUR LENDING POLICIES ONLINE!!!

List of national and state libraries

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

A national library is specifically established by the government of a nation to serve as the pre-eminent repository of information for that country. Unlike public libraries, they rarely allow citizens to borrow books. Often, they include numerous rare, valuable, or significant works; such as the Gutenberg Bible. National libraries are usually notable for their size, compared to that of other libraries in the same country. Some national libraries may be thematic or specialized in some specific domains, beside or in replacement of the 'main' national library.

Some national entities which are not independent but who wish to preserve their particular culture, have established a national library with all the attributes of such institutions, such as legal deposit.

Many national libraries cooperate within the National Libraries Section of the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) to discuss their common tasks, define and promote common standards and carry out projects helping them to fulfil their duties. National libraries of Europe participate in The European Library. This is a service of The Conference of European National Librarians (CENL).

The list below is organized alphabetically by country, according to the list of sovereign states, including, at its end an 'other states' section for non-sovereign states. A "*" indicates a national library of a constituent country or dependent state. It is listed under the sovereign state which governs that entity. Sovereign states are listed even when they have no national library or when the existence and name of a national library could not yet be ascertained. Other states, constituent countries and dependent states are listed only if they have a national library.

About the library

The library of Trinity College Dublin is the largest library in Ireland. The library was established at the same time as the College in 1592 and now holds over 4 million volumes. It is a legal deposit library meaning it is entitled to claim a copy of every book published in the UK and Ireland.

The main libraries are found on the College campus:

- Berkeley Library: contains materials for history, law, official publications, psychology and print reference and bibliography collections for all subjects
- Lecky Library: contains materials for business, economics, social sciences, education, geography and geology
- Ussher Library: contains materials for classics, history of art, Jewish studies, biblical studies, theology, languages, literature, music, nursing & midwifery, philosophy and print periodicals for all arts subjects
- Hamilton Library: contains materials (books and journals) for computer science, engineering, health sciences, mathematics and sciences

Other collections available are:

- Early Printed Books Reading Room: holds a small reference collection and is used for consulting older books from the closed access collections
- Manuscripts Reading Room
- John Stearne Medical Library is at St. James's Hospital
- Santry Book Repository: houses approximately 3 million volumes in closed access. Items held here must be requested
- Map Library
- AMNCH in Tallaght: serves the staff and students at the Adelaide and Meath Hospital

On the left side, there is a vertical sidebar with 'All formats' and several categories: Books, Articles, On the web, Games, Films, Music, and Printed music. At the bottom of this sidebar is an 'Advanced search' link. The main search area is titled 'Search' and includes the instruction '- fill in one (or more) search words - and click Go'. It contains four search input fields: 'Author' (with example 'obama'), 'Title' (with example 'timbuktu'), 'Subject' (with example 'mars'), and 'Free text' (with example 'drucker maslow?'). Each field has a question mark icon and a list icon. A yellow 'Go' button is positioned to the right of the search fields. Below the search fields is a yellow bar with the text '[+] Refine your search' and a dropdown arrow icon.
